La Lengua Española por razones históricas y por voluntad de los propios guineanos es la lengua oficial de la República de Guinea Ecuatorial y ha pasado a ser por las mismas razones la lengua principal de instrucción escolar. Su aprendizaje es en estos momentos el paso obligado de acceso a la "cultura escolar". Por ello el punto de partida y el centro de atención será en esta etapa el aprendizaje del Español como segunda lengua. El objetivo final será la adquisición de un sistema coordinado de lengua en el que los niños sean capaces de pensar y hablar en español del mismo modo que lo hacen en su lengua nativa. El objetivo prioritario en este periodo inicial será la Lengua Oral como instrumento de comunicación. El desarrollo de hábitos comunicativos reclama una clase profundamente activa en la que el niño hable y se le hable. Reclama principalmente la existencia de vivencias interesantes que comunicar. Enfrentarse al aprendizaje de una segunda lengua con actividades de papel y lápiz o con normas gramaticales es exponerse a un fracaso casi seguro. Una clase silenciosa, poco dialogante, cuya preocupación fundamental es tener a los niños quietos y callados no está en condiciones para producir ese mecanismo profundo y creador que es la aptitud para la comunicación. Es el establecimiento de una comunicación distendida y profunda entre profesor y alumnos y de éstos entre si lo que creará el clima apropiado para el desarrollo del hábito lingüístico que permita al niño guineano expresarse en español en situaciones cada vez más espontáneas y libres, de modo que la segunda lengua se convierta así en herramienta eficaz de comunicación y en instrumento cómodo para el aprendizaje escolar.

This dual-language text provides theory and methodology for teaching reading in Spanish to Spanish/English bilingual or Spanish-dominant students. The goal is to help educators teach these students the skills necessary to become proficient readers and, thus, successful in the school system. At the very core of the book are the hispano-parlantes--the Spanish-speaking children--who bring to the schools, along with their native language and cultures, a wealth of resources that must be tapped and to whom all educators have a responsibility to respond. True to the concepts of developing bilingual educators to serve bilingual students, the text presents chapters in English and Spanish. Each chapter is written in only one language at the preference of the author. Thus, to be successful with this book, the reader must be bilingual. Themes emphasized in the text include current reading methodologies, the concept of reading as developmental literacy skills, reading in the content areas, new views of the development of proficiency in the second language, issues related to students with special learning needs, assessment, and the uses of technology in the delivery of instruction. Never losing sight of its goal--to teach reading in Spanish to bilingual or Spanish-dominant students--the book includes a series of focusing questions and follow-up activities; these are not simply translations of existing activities, strategies, and techniques intended for monolingual English students, but specifically designed to be appropriate for Spanish-speaking students. Directed to university preservice and in-service instructors of reading and bilingual education as well as administrators and district- and school-level staff developers who work with Hispanic populations, the book is sensitive at all times to nuances of the languages and cultures of the intended audiences.
