Jaschke's classic work, first published in 1881 and still invaluable to students, is now reprinted in paperback for the first time. The dictionary is essential for textual interpretation, particularly of Buddhist philosophy. Sanskrit equivalents are provided.

Together with Virgo, the Coma Berenices cluster is one of the most well-studied clusters at all wavelengths and in all aspects, from the Sunyaev-Zeldovich effect to star formation in galaxies. In a way, it is the prototype of rich clusters. Recent observational results, linked to the improvement of techniques such as X-ray and UV observations, along with multi-object spectroscopy, have shown that they could change our vision of this cluster. It is thus time for observers and theoreticians to confront all these new ideas and observations on the Coma cluster. The topics in this volume include:

cosmological aspects of the Coma cluster, comparison with distant clusters; substructures; matter content and distribution; Sunyaev-Zeldovich effect; dynamical modelling, cluster dynamics; environmental effects on galaxies, star formation.

Plum and Posner's

Diagnosis and

and Coma, 5th edition,

is a major update of

the classic work on

diagnosing the cause of

coma, with the addition of completely new

sections on treatment

of comatose patients,

by Dr. Jan Claassen,

the Director of the

Neuro-ICU at Columbia

New York Presbyterian

Hospital. The first

chapter of the book

provides an up-to-date

review on the brain

mechanisms that

maintain a conscious

state in humans, and how lesions that

damage these

mechanisms cause loss

of consciousness or coma. The second

chapter reviews the

neurological

examination of the

comatose patient, which provides the basis for determining whether the patient is suffering from a structural brain injury causing the

coma, or from a

metabolic disorder of consciousness. The third and fourth

chapters review the

pathophysiology of

structural lesions

causing coma, and the specific disease states that result in coma.

Chapter five is a comprehensive treatment of the many

causes of metabolic

coma. Chapter 6 review psychiatric causes of unresponsiveness and how to identify and treat them. Chapters 7 and 8 review the overall emergency treatment of comatose patients, followed by the treatment of specific causes of coma. Chapter 9 examines the long term outcomes of coma, including the minimally conscious state and the persistent vegetative state, and how they can be distinguished, and their implications for eventual useful recovery. Chapter 10 reviews the topic of brain death and the standards for examination of a patient that are required to make the determination of brain death. The final chapter 11 is by J.J. Fins, a medical ethicist who was invited by the other authors to write an essay on the ethics of diagnosis and treatment of patients who, by definition, have no way to approve of or communicate about their wishes. While providing detailed background for neurological and neurosurgical specialists, the practical nature of the material in this book has found its greatest use among Internists, Emergency Medicine, and Intensive Care specialists, who deal with comatose patients frequently, but who may not have had extensive neurological training.
