A tarnished Russian genius. A blinded CFO. A shocking interview that opens more than Jack's eyes... No, really, I ' m not afraid of anything. Born and raised in Russia, I ' ve seen things. I ' ve experienced things that I ' ll take to the grave. After our parents died, my sister and I began another life...in America. Seems men aren ' t much different in the land of opportunity. And when a once in a lifetime career choice pops up on my radar, I go for it, despite the fact that the CFO of the company looks like he wants more than just my list of references. When Jack Ford turns his back, I ready myself, but instead of taking a piece of what ' s being offered, for the first time in my life...a man surprises me.  Kristina ' s resume is unfounded. She looks great on paper, and she ' s even better in person. Her articulation is at a level of professionalism and passion that is unsurpassed, and she can demonstrate that ability easily when given a sample task. This first interview goes off without a hitch. And then I find her later in a place where I would never expect her to be. My brothers instantly veto me bringing her in for a second interview, but something draws me to her, despite that. But when the second interview ends in a shocking and unforgettable twist, I walk out of there shaking her hand, not realizing that I ' m in the presence of a woman who will help me a hundred times more than I will ever help her. Jack Ford is the last of the brothers to fall in love and swears that it is not going to happen, until Kristina. The characters are well developed and likable. There is danger, drama, family, and love in this story." -5 Stars from Heather W, Booksprout reviewer "This was a charming romantic tale to read. The story was good and well written. Language across Boundaries is a selection of papers from the millennium conference of the British Association of Applied Linguistics. The thirteen papers are written by applied linguists, from Britain, mainland Europe, the USA, Australia and Singapore, working in a variety of sub-disciplines of the field. The 'boundaries' of the title have been widely interpreted and the book reflects a spectrum of research, ranging from work on the linguistic repercussions of individual and group identity boundaries to work dealing with ways of crossing national and cultural boundaries through language learning and language mediation in the form of translation. Included in the volumes are the plenary papers given by Jennifer Coates, well known for her work on language and gender, on the expression of alternative masculinities; and by Bencie Woll, holder of the first chair of Sign Language and Deaf Studies in the UK, on the insights to be gained from sign language in exploring language, culture and identity.

This book generates a fresh, complex view of the process of globalization by examining how work, scholarship, and life inform each other among intercultural scholars as they navigate their interpersonal relationships and cross boundaries physically and metaphorically. Divided into three parts, the book examines: (1) the socio-psychological process of crossing boundaries constructed around nations and work organizations; (2) the negotiation of multiple aspects of identities; and (3) the role of language in intercultural encounters, in particular, adjustment taking place at linguistic and interactional levels. The authors reflect upon and give meaning and structure to their own intercultural experiences through theoretical frameworks and concepts—many of which they themselves have proposed and developed in their own research. They also provide invaluable advice for transnational scholars and those who aspire to work and live abroad to improve organizational participation and mutual intercultural engagement when working in a globalizing workplace. Researchers and practitioners of applied linguistics, communication studies, and higher education in many regions of the world will find this book an insightful resource.

The book contains eleven articles on theoretical problems in Albanian, Hungarian, Polish, (Old) Russian, Romanian, and the South Slavic languages of Bulgarian, Macedonian, Serbo-Croatian, and Slovenian. They cover topics such as clitics, head and phrasal movement, the structure of the DP, and clause structure. A number of papers refer to and make systematic comparisons with languages outside the region, including Breton, German, Hebrew, and Welsh. Since the papers were selected from an international conference in Spring 1998 in Szeged, Hungary, they represent the crossing of boundaries in three senses: the physical sense, by comparing genetically unrelated languages, and by examining properties of movement across categories.

The Adventure in Discovering What Its All About. In the beginning, God created a perfect world for his children. He placed them in a perfect environment where there was no such thing as sin, sickness, or death. As parents, we want the best for our children, and God is no different. He placed his children in a world where there was no such thing as stealing, killing, or destroying. So why is it that when we were born, we were born into an imperfect world? Something happened six thousand years ago that caused a separation between God and man. Now when you look at this world, you are not looking at the nature of God but at the results of our sin. Mankind is in rebellion with their Creator. Because of this rebellion called sin, our physical bodies are sentenced to death; but we will live on forever, either with God in heaven or without him in a place called hell. In The God Journey, author Ricky Tutor shares the story of how he went from a teenage troublemaker to becoming a God-fearing man. His calling is to share with others what its all about: evidence, facts, and proof concerning the reality of God and true-life stories of Gods perfect forgiveness. Come and take a journey with Ricky as he takes you into a step-by-step analysis of the fall of man, Gods perfect plan of redemption, and how you can be confident on Judgment Day.
